You were so young, and you had so much potential. You were going to serve this country and were willing to risk your life for this country. Your parents will miss you and thank you for being so lovely.

LIFE

Matthew was born on November 20, 1986 in Dumont, New Jersey. His parents were Joseph and Barbara Laporte. Matthew was a sophomore attending Virginia Tech and was studying for a degree in political science. Matt attended Carson Long Military Institute in New Bloomfield, Pa., from seventh grade through twelfth grade.

AMENDMENT

I think that the second amendment (right to bear arms) needs to be stronger in the way that they need to do background checks before you sell any weapons to anybody. They need to make it stronger by asking for their medical record or something similar.

STATISTIC

Another senseless death.
