LIFE

On April sixteenth, 2007, your life was taken away too soon. You did not deserve to lose your life at school like this, you were only eighteen. I am so sorry that you had to lose your life so young, you had so much ahead of you. I hope you are resting in peace Austin Cloyd.

AMENDMENT

I have learned a lot about the second amendment and I truly think that it should be amended. Although this situation with guns is very difficult and controversial, there must be a solution to stop people from dying like this.

STATISTIC

Another senseless death.
