

Chris Hixon

TWEET

Nicole Rodriguez
@nicolerodriguez

Follow

Hey Chris, thank you for everything you've done for your students at Marjory Stoneman Douglas. You had such a kind heart, you had the biggest heart out of anyone I know. All your students miss you extremely, your life was taken way too soon.

Reply Retweet Favorite More

5:09 PM - 14 Feb 2018 ·

LIFE

Chris Hixon, 49, was an athletic director and wrestling coach at Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School. He was dedicated to his students, helping coach other athletic teams even when he wasn't eligible for pay. He was shot in the Marjory Stoneman Douglas school shooting while trying to protect students so they wouldn't get shot.

AMENDMENT

My opinion on the 2nd Amendment is that there should be more restrictions and regulations toward the people selling and buying guns. I believe there should be stricter background checks, any person with any type of mental illness should not be allowed to bear arms. Any person with mental illness can cause these types of catastrophes while in possession of a gun. We should have much stricter gun laws than the ones we have now.

STATISTIC

Another senseless death.